

Please don't create any loopholes in wisconsin's no-call list. In fact, we'd prefer to have our state's ban be extended to political calls and charitable fund raising as well. We don't need any more interruptions and invasions of our privacy. We are exposed to enough advertising every day. We are intelligent enough to make our own product choices without being badgered by companies we may once have had a relationship with. Any expansion is unnecessary and would be highly unpopular.
